Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 11 January 2007.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 28-52, 54, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brescia et al. (US patent 7,068,189 B2).

Regarding claims 1, 41 54, Brescia teaches a communication for providing event specific profile to mobile terminal (See figure 1, 24) comprising:

an application server associated with the event (col 3 lines 44-59, col 6 lines 49-67);

a mobile communication network for receiving even specific characterizes from the application server (col 3 lines 19-59); and at least one mobile terminal for connection in the network (0048, figure 1); wherein the mobile network notifies the application server if the mobile terminal is associated with the server transmits the event specific profile to the mobile terminal (col 3 lines 5-67).

Art Unit: 2617

Regarding claims 29, 42, Brescia teaches a method wherein the profile includes a collection of user setting or preferences (col 4 lines 14-67).

Regarding claims 30, 43, Brescia teaches a method wherein the profile includes user manageable settings (col 4 lines 14-67).

Regarding claims 31, 44, Brescia teaches a method wherein the profile includes a custom or event specific profile package (col 3 lines 44-66).

Regarding claims 32, 45, Brescia teaches a method wherein the step of installing the profile in the mobile station (col 1 lines 38-54).

Regarding claims 33, 46, 48, Brescia teaches a method wherein the event is a location dependent event, the step of detecting an association of a mobile terminal with the event comprising detecting a location of the mobile (col 1 lines 54-66),

Art Unit: 2617

Regarding claims 34, 47, Brescia teaches a method wherein the event is a time dependent, the step of detecting an association of a mobile terminal with the detecting the location of mobile within a predetermined time period (col 4 lines 2-35).

Regarding claim 35, Brescia teaches a method wherein the predetermined period correspond to duration of the event (col 4 lines 2-35).

Regarding claim 36, Brescia teaches a method comprising removing the profile from the mobile responsive to the termination of the event (col 1 lines 39-67, col 2 lines 1-19).

Regarding claim 38, Brescia teaches a method wherein removing step comprising transmitting a termination signal to the mobile terminal responsive to which the profile is deleted (col 1 lines 39-59).

Regarding claim 39, Brescia teaches a method wherein the profile includes a link to event specific information (col 1 lines 39-59).

Regarding claim 40, Brescia teaches a method wherein the profile includes a link to an instant community (col 1 lines 39-59).

Regarding claim 49, Brescia teaches an application server wherein the second communication interface receives details of a mobile located in the location (col 1 lines 39-59).

Regarding claim 50, Brescia inherently teaches an application server wherein the details include the identity of the mobile (col 7 lines 34-62).

Regarding claim 51, Brescia teaches an application server wherein the first and the second communication interfaces are a fixed line communication interface (see figure 1, (col 1 lines 39-59, col 3 lines 5-33).

Regarding claim 52, Brescia teaches an application server wherein the third communication interface is a mobile communication interface (figure 1, col 3 lines 5-33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 53, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brescia et al. (US patent 7,068,189 B2).

Regarding claim 53, Brescia fails to teach an application server wherein the third communication interface is a GPRS or Bluetooth interface. However, the Examiner takes official notice that an application server wherein the third communication interface is a GPRS or Bluetooth interface is well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the above teaching with Brescia, in order to provide more flexibility and more advance system.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 28-54 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
